

Southern Spine announces Brian K. Rich, MD to join Medical Advisory Board

March 3, 2021

Southern Spine, LLC, an ISO 13485:2016 certified manufacturer of implants and instruments for spinal surgery, announces that Brian K. Rich, MD has joined their Medical Advisory Board (MAB).

“We are excited to welcome Dr. Rich as we continue to build out our Medical Advisory Board” said David C. Field, CEO of Southern Spine. “Dr. Rich has a broad range of experience with devices such as our StabiLink® Interlaminar Fixation System within the interventional pain market. He has been instrumental in helping to streamline this minimally invasive approach to treating patients with a wide range of spinal disorders and training other physicians on his technique.”

“I am honored to join the Southern Spine Medical Advisory Board and look forward to educating other interventional pain physicians on the benefits of the StabiLink® Interlaminar Fixation System” said Dr. Rich. Patients and physicians are demanding procedures that fill the void between non-surgical spine treatments and the more traditional, invasive spinal fusion procedures. The StabiLink® MIS Interlaminar Fixation System successfully addresses this “void” in treatment options for many patients and physicians especially at L5-S1.

The main benefit of the patented StabiLink® Interlaminar Fixation System is that it is placed between the spinous processes, away from the neural elements including the spinal cord and spinal nerves. The patented “Laminar Lock” design of the StabiLink® implant creates an ideal containment area for the maximum amount of bone graft material to optimize bony fixation between the spinous process. Patients who select to undergo a procedure with the StabiLink® Interlaminar Fixation System may experience less pain, reduced operative time, and less blood loss when compared with those undergoing more invasive procedures involving the use of pedicle screws and rods.
